

Passporting Programme

Each participating institution, as part of their involvement in UniVenture, offers a piece of support to entrants. This portfolio of entrepreneurial support is called the 'London Passporting Programme.'

Only those items with an institutional contact are currently open for registration.

Brunel University, London.

Brunel University London is offering each entrant access to the university's Summer Entrepreneur Training Week during week commencing 25 June 2018. The sessions will cover start-up marketing, project management, sales and finance as well as personal development and pitching practice.

Teams must contact Emmy Botterman to be considered.

City, University of London.

City, University of London is willing to offer the winner access to a desk in the Launch Lab for one day per week until September. The Lab is a co-working space for people to work on their business with the support of an in-house team and a community of entrepreneurial talent.

Goldsmiths, University of London

Goldsmiths have offered to open a session in their Student Entrepreneurs Programme to all entrants. This programme looks at the skills young entrepreneurs to maximise their chances of success, Examples of possible session topics include; 'Ideas generation', 'From ambition to action', and 'Completing the Business Model Canvas.'

Imperial College London

Imperial have offered each entrant access to their shared workspace until September 2018, subject to availability. Covering 1,670 sqm, the co-working space provides virtual offices, hot-desking, tailored office packages, meeting rooms and kitchen facilities, business support services and training.

Teams must contact Liz Choonara to be considered.

Kingston University

Kingston is offering each entrant access to their business course, a four week programme running throughout the year. Entrants will also have access to the 'Enterprise! Insights' series, which takes place once a month and is designed to provide insight into the entrepreneurial life.

London College of Fashion

London College of Fashion will provide each finalist team with 2 hours of free mentoring sessions on campus. Each entrant team will also be given access to their series of Entrepreneurship events. This offer is valid from Mid-September 2018 to Mid-May 2019.

Teams must contact Tim Isle to be considered.

London South Bank University

London South Bank University will provide each entrant team 3 months free access to The Clarence Centre, an in-house technology hub with hot decking facilities, access to LSBU Entrepreneur in residence, access to the LSBU entrepreneur programme, Membership to City Library and a vibrant entrepreneurial community of students and graduates.

Ravensbourne

Ravensbourne will provide each entrant team with access to the 'Ravensbourne Factory' and 'The Lates.' The programme includes workshops such as Zine Making, Relief Printing, iPhone film making. 'The Lates' are a series of evening event lectures and networking opportunities featuring leading creative practitioners and industry pioneers. Teams must sign up to the mailing list to take part.

Teams can submit enquiries to Andrew Liddell.

The London School of Economics and Political Science

LSE will offer all entrants access to the entrepreneurship events programme (excluding mentoring) at LSE, which includes masterclasses, festivals (on social enterprise and female founders), and a variety of workshops. They will send the entrants our programme each term so teams can opt in to those events they would like to attend.

University of West London

UWL will provide each entrant team with access to the Entrepreneurship and Startup events run at University of West London incubator: The Westmont hub. The hub is a platform for future entrepreneurs designed to encourage collaboration.

Teams must contact Matt Snowden to be considered.

University College London

UCL will offer 3 entrant teams 6-month access to BaseKX, UCL's Entrepreneurship hub at Kings Cross, London on a Hatchery Beta membership. Included in this is access to BaseKX, Monday to Friday 9am to 5pm only. Access to UCL Innovation and Enterprise Masterclasses in Entrepreneurship classes. The Hatchery Beta Membership is subject UCL's internal 3-month review policy and teams need to be approved by UCL.

Teams must contact Bao Tieu to be considered.

University of Greenwich

Greenwich will offer each entrant team access to the University Big Picture Seminar Series, as well as access our enterprise events. The Big Picture Seminar Series aims to provide students, staff and the local community with an insight into the bigger picture of industries that either interest them or that they study. The events are intended to inspire, inform and educate attendees.

Important Terms and Conditions:

The Passporting Programme is offered to all entrants who participated in UniVenture 18, with conditions as outlined in the institutional copy.

Entrants should be aware that the onus is on them as individuals to register for the parts of the programme they wish to use.

Places are offered subject to availability, room capacity and at individual institution's discretion. If you are unable to book onto a specific part of the programme, every effort will be made to find a similar replacement.

For more information please contact Jordan.hill@londonhigher.ac.uk

